

Donor Privacy Policy

BREF will not sell or distribute in any way the names and or addresses of its donors.

BREF has as a policy to conduct only one fundraising campaign each year. This is usually done in the late fall of each year by a post mailing of a brochure with an accompanying appeal letter. Donors may choose to give or refuse to give at any time. If donors do not respond to the mailing, a reminder is sent before the end of the year.

If donors send us a letter indicating they wish to be dropped from our mailing list, that request will be honored, otherwise non giving persons will be dropped from our mailing list after three to six years of no response.
